AMENDMENT 0004

The following answers are for informational purposes only.

1. For projects that fit the criteria for the customer questionnaire; how shall we proceed in those instances that the person we worked with at a particular firm/owner is no longer at that place of employment?

A: There are several avenues available:

Find out the name of the successor and determine if s/he has knowledge about the project. If, so perhaps this person can complete the questionnaire.

Call the company and find out where the employee is now? As a minimum, see if you can get an address or telephone number to make contact. If they have no knowledge of the location of the person, ask if there is anyone available that has knowledge of the project.

In the event you can not locate the person and no other persons at the company has knowledge of your firm's abilities, it seems impossible that your firm will be able to submit a past performance questionnaire for that particular project.

2. One of the requirements of the 1st page is to indicate the name of the person who is authorized to negotiate on behalf of the offeror. Can there be more than one person that we authorize to do so?

A: Yes, you may have as many as is necessary to conclude negotiations.

3. Are you requesting a complete SF254/255 submitted package from the design firm or will the SF254 Blocks 1 thru 11 and SF 255 resumes (Block 7) be sufficient? Concern is that providing Block 8 project descriptions, Block 9 Work Performed and Block 10 typically requires a great number of pages which go against the 100 page limit. Please clarify.

A: We are requesting a complete SF254/255 package. Due to this, the page limit has been increased to 150 pages.
